General Model Posing Tips

I was put in charge of the modeling portion of our show.

I'll be offering tips and advice on glamour modeling. I'll also cover some of the most frequently asked questions I've heard from models and photographers about modeling. The topics I'll talk about will range from getting started in the industry, booking shoots, common mistakes we make as models, to making a name for yourself online and taking care of your most precious asset - your looks. I can share my knowledge from my six years of experience as a glamour model. If you have anything you want more details on or information on, just send me an email. I'll answer what I know and I'll even see about getting other models to share their thoughts as well. And we also have Mark who is known for getting along so well with even the most difficult models, to give us his take on the whole thing.

Research / Preparation

Get ideas from:

- the web, search or look at sites with pics
- magazine tears
- books
- catalogs

What are you shooting for? Research

Come up with poses that are popular in that genre:

Fashion = fashiony, edgy

Artistic = show off body, lines, figure

Glamour = sensuality, feminine curves

- Practice in front of a mirror
- Practice moving from one pose to another
- Feel your body sink and hit the poses
- Have a friend shoot you or do a trade with a photographer
- Videotape yourself at home with webcam
- Just get more comfy with a camera in your face

Once you have a few, add something to them to make them unique and personal

- Play up your strengths
- Know your body
- Look for girls with similar bodies and see what works for them
- Expressions
- Relax / breathe / do not be stiff
- Hands / feet / posture / suck in belly
- Model with whole body
- Take notes when photographers give tips
- They will guide you but you'll come up with more dynamic images if you work with him to create poses

In Closing:

- Just a reminder that you can visit the blog at www.glamourphotopodcast.com for the show notes and plenty of other photography related articles. We are shooting for two shows a month at this time. Please email us your questions at questions@glamourphotopodcast.com or you can follow us on Twitter @glamourpodcast or leave questions with the hashtag #GLAMPHOTO or just Direct Message them to us. If you can tell us where you're from if we can use your name on the show that would be great also.
